South Kiscadale Land, Whiting Bay, Isle of Arran.

At present, the approved use of the land is for agriculture and forestry, however this attractive south east facing land offers excellent commercial development potential for equestrian and sporting activities. It is located close to the expanding residential development on the periphery of Whiting Bay with potential for future development - subject to approvals. At present the land has several service connections with good access to electricity and mains water.

Vehicular access to the land is from Golf Course Road to the west of the main residential area in Whiting Bay. It is bounded to the north by Whiting Bay golf course and to the south by the Glenashdale burn, to the west by adjacent forestry land and tracks and to the east by neighbouring farmland bounded by the Golf Course road.

Access to the land for inspection should be co-ordinated with the selling agents from whom full details of the extent of the subjects and planning permission can be accessed.

Offers in the region of £400,000 are being sought for the entire package of land which is freehold and will not be subject to any passing tenancies.
